Porterville Exhibit Is Tulare County Fair Winner

NUMBER ONE! That's the Porterville community exhibit at the 1967 Tulare County fair that is now in progress, the booth winning top honors on a basis of produce displayed, theme, educational value and artistic appeal. The booth was designed and constructed, and produce was gathered, by the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce, headed by Joe Faure Jr., with Doug Webb serving as chairman of the exhibit committee. Porterville earned 300 ribbons - and 640 ribbon points - with 416 produce entries, to top all other community exhibitors. Visalia ranked second; Lindsay, third; Dinuba, fourth; and Tulare, fifth. With the win goes possession of a new, perpetual trophy donated by the San Joaquin Valley National bank.

JUNIOR EXHIBITOR LIVESTOCK GOES AT AUCTION SATURDAY IN ANNUAL COUNTY FAIR SALE

TULARE - Groomed, fitted and grain-fed steers, lambs and barrows will go on the auction block Saturday as Future Farmers and 4-H club members from throughout Tulare county put their fine project animals to the final test - the test of the competitive market.

The auction, which gets underway at 10 a.m., marks the high point in the project life of junior exhibitors, since the price paid determines the financial success - or failure - of the project.

Buyers of sale animals, the sellers, and their parents are invited to attend

KIWANIS KAPERS NEW DATE SET OCTOBER 12

PORTERVILLE - New date for the 1967 Kiwanis Kapers was announced this week as October 12, the change becoming necessary when a conflict in bookings of the professional entertainers turned up.

"Rather than sacrifice quality of the show by substituting acts, we decided to set the show ahead one week," says Harley Baker general chairman of the Kapers' committee.

"So the show goes on just as advertised, with top professional entertainers, headed by Jo Ann Castle, from the Lawrence Welk troupe," Baker states.

LET'S NOT JUNK PEST DISTRICT

Citrus growers in the southern Tulare county area are obviously disenchanted with operation of the Central California Citrus Pest Control agency, an organization of five "local" citrus pest control districts in Kern, Tulare and Fresno counties, designed to find and eliminate red scale infestations in citrus orchards.

Evidence of dissatisfaction was obvious at Monday's meeting of growers in the Southern Tulare County Citrus Pest control district when they voted not to go along with an agency request for $150,000 as an excess budget item to cover cost of three sprayings of red scale infested acreage.

Current budget of the agency, supplied by the five local districts is $461,140, of which the southern county district is committed for its percentage share of $121,464 to operate the agency. Growers did not see fit to kick in another $31,500 as their share of the requested $150,000 budget.

As we see the problem, citrus growers are most certainly aware of the serious threat of red scale. They have lost confidence, however, in management and operation of the Central agency.

Why?

The complaints that we hear, and have heard for some time, are: 1. A lack of adequate red scale inspection by the agency; 2. Lack of information, as to agency expenditures and program, from agency to growers; 3. Failure of the agency to appraise the red scale problem, set up a yearly budget, then live within that budget; and 4. The paying of a disproportionate share of the cost of red scale control by southern county growers who have a lesser problem compared to cost of control in the northern Tulare county area and in Fresno county, where the problem is more severe, resulting in a "subsidy" of the growers to the north by southern Tulare county growers.

We believe that these complaints are legitimate, but we also believe that an area-wide attack on the red scale problem is necessary, and economically advisable.

Consequently we would strongly urge that neither the Southern Tulare County Red Scale district, nor the Central agency be junked at this time.

We suggest that growers study the ramifications of operation of the southern county district as a separate entity; also the possibility of revamping the Central agency.

After this is done, after honest, eyeball to eyeball discussions between growers and directors of the southern county district and commissioners of the Central agency, then the future course of red scale control can be more intelligently planned.

One thing appears certain at this point. Changes have to be made — and soon.

WE THE PEOPLE

The comments in this column are not necessarily the views of the editors and publishers of The Farm Tribune.

To The Editor:

Dear Sir:

With all the recent publicity about Medi-Cal and the proposed cutbacks, the newspapers have printed many statements by heads of various medical societies and associations. These elected leaders convey the impressions that they speak for all the members of their respective groups when they protest the cutbacks and describe the consequent deterioration of medical care. Other prejudiced spokesmen lump most physicians in a group as "anti-mental health elements of the medical profession."

I protest these generalizations as politically and prejudicially motivated. These men no more speak for me or are able to categorize my thinking than Jimmy Hoffa can properly represent the thoughts of his rank and file union members.

As for the actual opinions of the majority of private physicians, I would wager that they do not vary much from mine — that is that accelerated socialism by placing on private medicine the case load previously cared for at public clinics and hospitals does not necessarily upgrade medical care nor provide previously "unattainable" care to the medically indigent. The fantastic increase in cost and the eventual deterioration of medical care are well documented in the British National Health system.

MONACHE HIGH SCHOOL OFFICIALLY DEDICATED

AN ESTIMATED 4,000 persons visited the new Monache High School campus last Thursday evening to participate in an open house and dedication program; photo shows the stage in the Campus center building where the program was held, with C. W. "Nap" Easterbrook serving as master of ceremonies in perhaps his last official school act since he is retiring as district superintendent. And it was sort of Nap's night since he had requested to continue as district superintendent until Monache was dedicated, and since he was honored by a letter of tribute from the Porterville chamber of commerce - a tribute that was echoed by Board Chairman Ted Cornell. The new school was formally dedicated by Cornell, who emphasized the wording on the front of the high school that was constructed in 1923 - "This building was erected by the people of Porterville Union High School district for the education of their boys and girls." Speaking were: Lee Clearman on "Historical Background of Monache;" Principal Dick Berryhill, "The Instructional Program at Monache;" and Cornell, "What Monache High School Means to the Community." Introduced were Fred S. Macomber, the contractor who built the school; Eddy and Paynter, architects; and Mrs. Lovell Wilson, who formerly owned the property on which the school was constructed.

THE JONES BOYS

RAY JONES

ABOUT THE JONES BOYS

RAY established Porterville Ready Mix 15 years ago and it has developed through the years as a family business. He had the distinction of driving the first ready mix concrete truck in Porterville — back in the early 1940s — for the old Spalding Lumber company.

BILL JONES

BILL is a graduate of Porterville High School and is a four-year veteran of the United States Navy. While in the service he married the former Rose Houseman in North Dakota; they have one daughter. Bill is a director of the Porterville Ready Mix corporation.

GERALD, a graduate of Porterville High School, is now in his second year at Porterville College; he plans to continue his education at Fresno State College. As part of the family business setup he works summers and weekends at the ready mix plant — and spends many hours coaching and managing Porterville Little League baseball teams.

GERALD JONES

RANDY is in his first year at Porterville college after an outstanding athletic career at Porterville High School — running on the valley championship 880 relay team in 1966 and playing on the championship basketball team in 1967. As an active member of the Rockford 4-H club he showed the Grand Champion steer at the Porterville Fair in 1967 and at the Tulare County Fair in 1966.

RANDY JONES

Ray and his sons, Bill, Gerald and Randy, are proud to have played a part in Construction Company, builder of the school . . . The Jones Boys, through their continuing through the construction period . . . And not a single load of Porterville and we are proud of the new high school," says Ray and his sons. "We

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

WHEN COUNTY Republicans announced that they were looking for the person in Tulare county who has been registered as a Republican for the longest period of time, Paul Robinson of Porterville immediately let it be known that he has been a member of the party for 59 1/2 years, registering in Tulare county in 1908 when he came to the area as a forest ranger. He cast his fist ballot at Lemon Cove, his second at California Hot Springs; for the rest of the years he has voted at Porterville... Paul says he has never let party affiliation influence his choice, that he has always voted for the man. But through the years he has never found "the man" who wasn't a Republican... Paul will be tough to crowd out when county Republicans give a free ticket for the Ronald Reagan dinner October 4 to the oldest Republican in the county in years of registration.

VICTORY WAS sweet indeed for members of the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce who handled Porterville's first-place community exhibit at the current Tulare County fair... As a sidelight enterprise, and in support of agriculture, Porterville JCs have a standing bet with Visalia JCs, who are in charge of the Visalia exhibit, as to who will top who each year in community competition. The bet—a fermented product of the farm, namely beer, a keg of it... For the fourth year in a row Visalia JCs will be buying... Our congratulations go to JC President Joe Faure Jr., and to Doug Webb, chairman of the fair exhibit committee, and to all JC members who worked on the booth, not only for getting to Visalia, but for their fine efforts in connection with the annual fair exhibit. This year is their second first-place win in five tries.

NOT ONLY are we totally unimpressed, but we get more than a little upset when experts, with a conglomeration of letters after their name, take we the people to task for actions they do not agree with... Case in point is the meeting of the Southern Tulare County Citrus Pest Control district at Terra Bella this week, where citrus growers were, in effect, told by a couple of the experts that they were stupid for refusing to go

We might suggest to Karl Opitz that when men who are authorities in a given field, and men who operate public projects with public money, conduct themselves in such a manner that we the people lose confidence in them and in their operation, then the question of who is really stupid becomes logically debatable.

No one expected summer to depart in a rain shower, but somehow the rains came. This, as usual, was not a blessing for everyone yet it has some good features which we might as well enjoy. The next thing you know leaves will be falling and you'll need a leaf rake to find the evening paper. You can find these instruments of torture at our joint. They come either made of bamboo or metal with a handle made to fit any hand. They are equally adaptable to either left or right handed wives. WHAT'S DOING?

One business that's really catching on is the telephone answering service. These businesses (not part of the phone company) answer the phone for just about everyone who needs to be available to the public at all hours: lawyers, repair services, salesmen, and doctors—just to name a few. Since the first one was originated over 40 years ago, the number of answering services in California has grown to more than 700 and they serve over 100,000 clients.

From taking department store orders after hours, to serving as a secretary for busy people, the telephone answering service is another part of the ever-widening range of telephone uses. And you'll find them listed in the Yellow Pages of your telephone book.

Starting September 22 the Bell Telephone Hour will be presented every third Friday. Please check your local newspaper for time and station.

Have you ever spent unnecessary time searching through stacks of old papers, coupons, and match books for an important phone number - only to find it written on a crumpled grocery list?

Well, I've found there's an easy way to keep those important numbers handy. Just call our Porterville Business Office, 784-0400, and ask your Service Representative for a Personal Telephone Directory. She'll gladly send you one free.

Your Personal Directory has space for names, addresses, Area Codes, personal and emergency numbers. It's THE handy way to keep frequently called numbers at your fingertips. And if you want more than one, just let her know. She'll be happy to send them to you.

PIRATES EARNED A TIE BUT THEY DIDN'T GET IT

For fifty-eight minutes Porterville College's hard-nosed Pirates took it to the COS Giants Saturday night. Then the 14-14 standoff was shattered by a long game-breaking pass by the Giants. Final score; COS 20, PC 14.

The disappointment was so thick you could stir it with a stick. Until The Bomb the Pirates had earned a tie with the big Giants and had often looked like a much better team. And, although the loss was a bitter one I came away from the game with a feeling that better things are to come.

The Pirates are tough and will bring winning football back to Porterville College. Coach Sim Iness has brought together a group of very capable athletes, and, even more important, they are all pulling in the same direction. There was spirit and unity in the Pirate huddle and on the bench.

Andy Gabaldon, a 170 pound tiger from Delano, fires the defense. The freshman linebacker slashed through the Giant line again and again to make the big defensive play for the Pirates. Hal Blackburn, a 175 pound defensive end from South high in Bakersfield, also showed a good rush. Big Chuck Stull and massive Ken Greenaway manned the tackle spots and held the Giant line shots to minimum success.

The Pirate offense was inconsistent, but it may be that the gargantuan defensive line of COS had something to do with that. The running of Randy Quiram, Bob Ruckman, and stubby Buddy Dixon was very effective. The three hit quickly and with power. The Pirate running attack generates power, but the passing is erratic. When this is corrected the Pirate offense should score often enough to keep the pressure off their savage defense.

Porterville fans get a chance to give the Pirate an even closer look this week as they host Napa JC Saturday night in Jamison stadium. The late loss to

BARRY WELDON MEMORIAL IS CONSIDERED

VANDALIA - A memorial to the late Barry Weldon, who lost his life during the summer, was considered at September meeting of the Vandalia 4-H club at the Vandalia school. He was to have been club president this year.

Jane Bennett is serving as club president; elected vice president was Janice Scranton.

A number of reports were given during the meeting: Dan Holloway on 4-H summer camp; Steve Wall and Carol Holloway on a recent trip to Los Angeles sponsored by the Porterville Kiwanis club; Nanci Carter and Richard Bennett on their State Fair projects; and Pat Bennett, club treasurer, on bills to be paid.

Announcements were made on the 4-H Chuckwagon breakfast the morning of October 7, and on the 1967 Tulare County fair. Richard Schmid led the pledge of allegiance and Emmy Lu Weldon the 4-H pledge.

4-H PRESIDENT IS INSTALLED

SPRINGVILLE - Installation and Achievement night were both held at the September meeting of the Springville 4-H club. Success Valley 4-H also had its Achievement night at this meeting.

Outgoing officers were: Terry Mitchell, Pres.; David Fitton, Vice Pres.; Sharon McDonald, Sect.; Clifford Fitton, Treas.; and Lynn Barrett, Reporter.

Installed into office were: Sharon McDonald, president; Clifford Fitton, vice president; Lynn Barrett, secretary; Jackie Everett, treasurer; and Linda Laken, reporter.

Dr. Richard Chamberlain, Success Valley community leader, read the awards as Rudolph Meier, from the Bank of America, presented them.

Sixty-nine Springville 4-H members received their pins: 27 first year, 12 second year, 12 third year, 10 fourth year, and six fifth year, one sixth year, and one seventh year.

Jr. Leader certificates were awarded to Christine Kibler, Terry Mitchell, and James Russell.

Star rank awards were given to David Fitton, and Donna Gililand, both Bronze stars; and Karen Long, Sharon McDonald and Terry Mitchell, Silver stars.

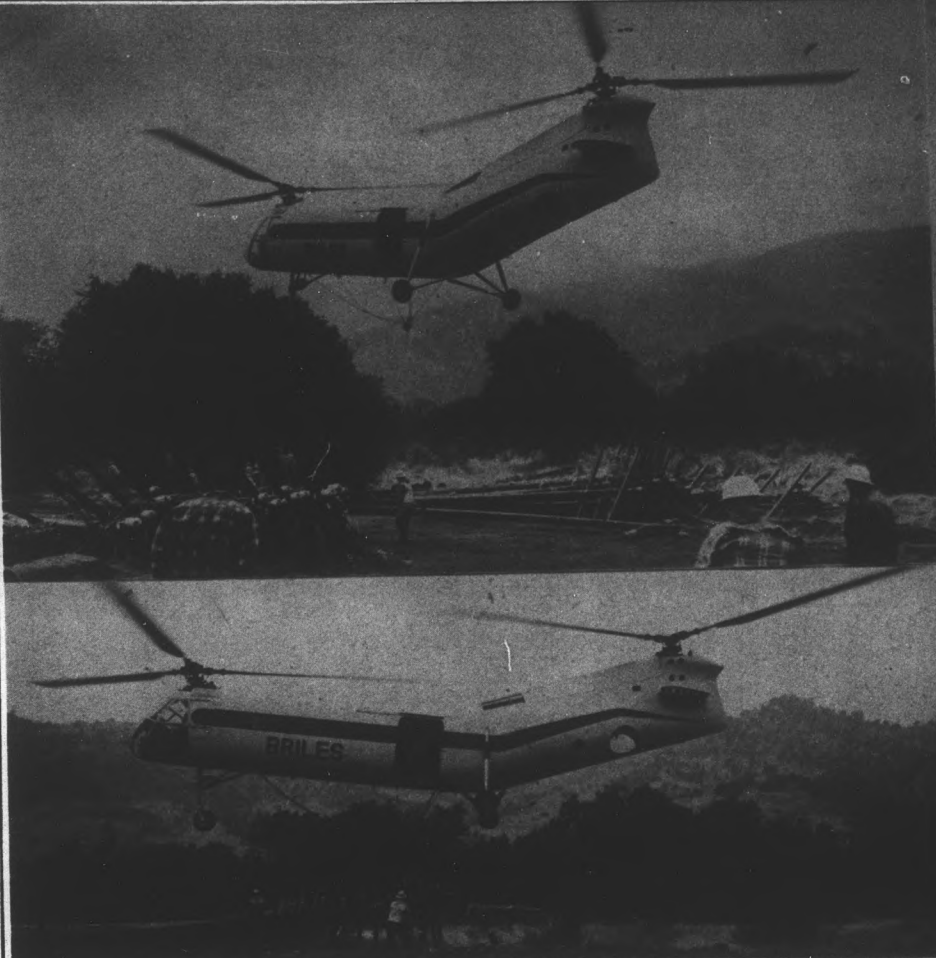

A number of members were presented with pins for 100% attendance.

Six first year leaders received certificates, along with four second year, one third year, three fourth year, two fifth year, one eighth year, one tenth year, Mrs. Carl Avery and one eighteenth year, Mrs. Dale Gill.

As a club, Springville 4-H won a gold seal.

Roy Pederson, Porterville city manager, gave a short talk about the lightbulb drive for the Sheltered Workshop. Club members voted to take part in the drive, October 4, during National 4-H week.

Other business concern-

SPECTACULAR, AND efficient is this method of setting power poles in rough terrain, which is what the Southern California Edison company is doing as they run a new line from the Springville hydro station near the Borror ranch into the mountains to the east. Photos show the helicopter setting in, picking up a pole and taking off, with the pole to be released in holes on the side of the mountain. The poles are stacked along highway 190 just around the curve from the Springville station; 12 minutes is required to pick up a pole, place it, and return, a crew working on the mountain to set the poles. After the poles are in, plan is to string wire by helicopter. Says

"Mac" Magill, Edison's district superintendent, "Things have changed a little since I went to work for the company. We used to do this kind of work with a team of mules and an A-frame mounted on a wagon." (Farm Tribune photos)

GIRLS INVITED TO PARTICIPATE FOR QUEEN TITLE

PORTERVILLE - Girls between the ages of 6 and 16 years are invited to participate in a contest for the title of queen of the Porterville Junior rodeo that will be sponsored by the Orange Belt Saddle club at the Rocky Hill arena, October 22.

Selection will be on a basis of 40 per cent for horsemanship; 40 per cent on ticket sales; and 20 per cent on personality. Each girl retains 10 per cent of the money from her ticket sales.

Full details on the contest can be obtained from Naomi O'Dell, contest chairman, telephone 784-8639.

ed the Community Halloween party with Karen Long appointed chairman. The next meeting, in October should prove interesting with Luella Scharff speaking to the club, along with an All-Star, who will be visiting.

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS

JOHN NOONAN, So. San Francisco City Attorney, on emotional, non-factual public criticism — "I've never been able to achieve piety with incantations."

DR. EDWARD TELLER, U.C. physicist — "War is not caused by arms; but where deep-seated hatreds exist, as in the Middle East . . . arms can act as a match on accumulated fuel. What causes a war is not the match but the fuel."

MRS. SHIRLEY TEMPLE BLACK, Hillsborough — "Not all actors should be in politics, and not all haberdashers should be President."

DEAN MARTIN, film, TV, nightclub star — "Everybody has a bit of original sin in him, only some of it is not too original."

J. T. HILL, S.F. — "One reads of preachers inflaming mobs and creating dissension. . . . How this country needs (one) today to rally our citizens behind our flag and the Union!"

DAN BLOCKER, wealthy star of TV "Bonanza" — "Our values are all loused up. A teacher who has devoted his life to what's important—children and their education — should be making 25 times what I do."

RAY TALIAFERRO, S.F. NAACP official — "Riots aren't destroying the ghettos. They are destroying the Negro, because they don't do a thing to eliminate unemployment, bad housing and bad schools."

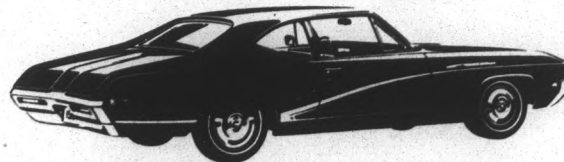

DAWN SMILEY, S.F. — "From the doves comes the loving coo; from the hawks the howl. Methinks we hear to much noise; what this country needs are owls."

ROBERT BOWEN, 4-year straight A student at UC Berkeley — "I don't think good grades necessarily indicate good learning."

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

His name is George Galusha. Pronounced Galoooo-sha. Not galosha. The kind you wear when it rains. He is the Inn keeper at the Dutch Frontier. He even looks like an Inn keeper. Veddy veddy Dutch. It is very lucky that George also owns the General Store in Ducor because he is always running out of goodies and has to run across the street to recoup. It is also very lucky that George has a wonderful family who is interested in his Dutch Frontier. This is a family affair, and delightful.

The other night Ken Billingsly had a birthday, and the place was going full blast. George was broiling steaks and going to the store. He was turning the potatoes, and going to the store. He was waiting on the tables, and going to the store. He was very busy. Jean, his capable wife, was there while George went to the store. Cindy, his lovely daughter managed to look beautiful in spite of the heat from the charcoal broiler. That's not easy to do. Buddy had broken his leg so he wasn't helping that night. Cheryl, another daughter, lives in Smog Town so wasn't there to help. The bar needed someone so Gordon Belt, Virginia's husband, pitched in and helped. He mixed drinks no one ever heard of. Which was nice. Anyway Ken had his birthday dinner. I was a little worried because he didn't have a cake. No problem. At the next table Joan Minetti was having a birthday too, and she shared her cake with Ken. I'm glad Georganne Minetti can make such good cakes. It was delicious. Joan may have had a birthday the same day as Ken, but there the resemblance ends. Joan is much younger than Ken and prettier too. We all sang Happy Birthday a little off key, but loud.

Cindy had to turn over the broiler to George because she had to do her home work. This being a senior in high school and helping at the Dutch Frontier keeps a young girl busy. George kept dropping hints about some celebrities who were coming for dinner this weekend. Now who could that be? He wouldn't tell us. I guess he thought we would mob the place to get autographs. Now Jackie Kennedy is in New York, I think. Prince Phillip is in London with his Queen. Frank Sinatra is at his dentist's office. Phil Lindgren is with Frances. Now who could George be so excited about? All the famous people are busy. I guess time will tell.

Carl Elder is all excited about being a Sports Editor for that other paper. I didn't know there was another paper in OUR TOWN. I guess he will be writing about running around one's own right end. I never did understand how they did that.

Happiness is cooler weather. The minute we turn on the furnace it will get hot again. Don't do it.
